12 INJURED IN WEEKEND RASH OF ACCIDENTS ON HIGHWAYS

Twelve persons were hurt and damage totaled $3,850 in seven auto accidents investigated by the state police from the local substation over the weekend. The accidents were in addition to two fatal crashes to which the officers were summoned during the same period.

John W. German, 52, Gettysburg R. 2, a linotype operator for The Gettysburg Times, suffered a laceration of the lower lip and severe contusions of the chest, abdomen and knees after his station wagon smashed into the rear of a sedan four miles east of here at 3:15 o'clock Sunday morning. He is in satisfactory condition at the Warner Hospital where he is being held for observation for possible internal injuries.

State police said an auto operated by Michael Thaddeus Leary, 20, Baltimore, had pulled out from the Lincoln Highway and was headed west slowly when German, also westbound, came upon the slower moving vehicle and the crash occurred.

$1,000 DAMAGE

Damage was estimated at $600 to German's station wagon and $400 to Leary's car. Leary suffered multiple cuts of the face and body. Daniel Conley, Fulton, N. Dennis Molloy, also in the Leary car, suffered a minor fracture of the back and dislocation of the right shoulder. Molloy is from Westbury, N.Y.

Mrs. Nellie F. Eiker, 50, Gettysburg R. 2, a passenger in German's vehicle, was treated for lacerations of the forehead and left knee.

DRIVER DOZES

The parents and two children were injured when a car operated by George T. Gladfelter, 24, Littlestown R. 2, left the Hanover-Carlisle pike approximately three miles north of Hanover at 2:30 Sunday morning. State police said Gladfelter fell asleep while driving. His vehicle went through a hedge and damaged the lawn and crashed into a porch at the property of Robert J. and Emma K. Markle, Hanover R. 2. Damage to the car was estimated at $600 and to the property at $330.

Gladfelter suffered a laceration of the right knee. His wife, Louise L. Gladfelter, 22, had a laceration of the forehead and a broken right foot and was admitted as a patient at the Hanover Hospital. 5 Little Girls And A Boy Perish In Midnight Blaze In Their Duplex Residence

PORTLAND, Maine (AP) — Five little girls and a boy died early today when fire raced through their duplex home near downtown Portland.

William F. Harrigan said the fire started around midnight when he spilled oil while trying to light a space heater.

Harrigan and his wife, Leona, were on the first floor. Their seven children and three state wards who lived with the family were asleep on the second floor of the wood frame house.

The 40-year-old railroad employe and his wife succeeded in helping three of their children out of the house before they were forced to flee the smoke and flames. A fourth child made her own way to safety.

3 SENTENCED IN COURT FOR BOOTLEGGING

James Brewer, 44, and Charlie Robinson, 45, arrested November 11 charged with operating a still in Straban Twp., were sentenced by the county court this morning to from 1 1/2 to 23 months in the Allegheny County workhouse. Each was also ordered to pay $500 for the use of the county and the costs.

Miss Geraldine J. Reynolds, 31, alias Geraldine J. Brewer, who was arrested on the same charge, was sentenced to from 30 days to one year in the county jail and, since she had already served 30 days, was placed on parole immediately for one year.

Liquor Control Agent L. V. Bomgardner told the court he had gone to a farm home Brewer was renting on Gettysburg R. 4 on November 11 at about 1:20 p.m. and found a 330-gallon still in the basement of the building. He said there were about 300 gallons of mash fermenting in the still and there were 38 two-quart jars of white moonshine in the basement.

BREWER HAS RECORD

Miss Reynolds was at the home, Bomgardner said, but she said she knew nothing of the still in the basement of the house.

He said he arrested Brewer and Robinson at 6:45 that evening in Marietta. The two men had been in an auto accident earlier that day at Thomasville.

The liquor enforcement agent read a lengthy list of crimes on which Brewer had previously been convicted dating back to 1939. All of the charges including the making of whiskey on which he had been sentenced to three years and a burglary and larceny on which he had been given five years occurred in North Carolina with one exception. Robinson also had a criminal record including an illegal whiskey charge against him in Virginia in 1961.

Robinson said he came to Adams County because of the urging of a local man he had known while in service.

TURNED SELF IN

Brewer claimed he had been a construction worker for three years, then when he found expenses more than his income had built the still. Robinson said he knew Brewer had been here apple-picking and when work got slack "Jim" asked him to help in the bootlegging.

Robinson said his home is in Virginia. Brewer listed North Carolina as his home and Miss Reynolds said she was from Baltimore.

James W. Fisher, Hancock, Md., was sentenced to 30 days in jail and ordered to pay $100 for the use of the county and the costs. He turned up at the jail Sunday. Sheriff Dawson Miller (Continued On Page 2)

MARYLANDMAN LEAVES RIFLE WITH SHERIFF

An "awfully good rifle" led both to the jailing and release of George Henry McGowan, Baltimore, at the Adams County jail Saturday. McGowan was arrested by county Game Protector Homer H. Thrush on charges of giving false information to obtain a resident license from County Treasurer Daniel J. Wolff and with having a loaded rifle in his car while driving.

The charges were brought before Justice of the Peace John Whitman and McGowan pleaded guilty to both charges. He was charged $25 and costs on the charge of having a loaded rifle in his car and $20 and costs on the charge of giving false information.

When he was unable to pay the fines and costs he was removed to the county jail.

There Sheriff Dawson Miller, in preparing to place McGowan in the jail, made some inquiries. It seemed McGowan had $50 on him, plus the rifle. The fines and costs totaled $63, or $13 more than the total cash McGowan had on him.

Sheriff Miller again looked at the "awfully good" rifle as the sheriff described it. It was worth at least $13 if McGowan did not forward that amount. After due thought the sheriff made a proposition.

McGowan accepted and was released from jail, leaving the rifle behind plus his promise to forward the $13. If he failed to bring in the $13 the sheriff will have the rifle.

Three Lose Lives When Reservoir Breaks Open; Many Homes Swept Away

By ROBERT M. BURNETT Associated Press Staff Writer LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three hundred million gallons of water roared out of a gaping hole in Baldwin Hills Reservoir, leaving three persons dead, at least $10 million damage—and one big unanswered question: Why?

Investigators probed the cause of Saturday's devastating flood today as cleanup crews and heart-sick homeowners moved in to clear the stricken area of tons of muck and debris.

For some, there was nothing to be done.

HOMES WASHED AWAY

The giant wall of water from the breaking dam swept blocks of homes away. Only deep, eroded gullies remained where attractive dwellings stood. Sixty-four homes were destroyed and 82 were severely damaged. More fortunate residents picked among the ruins of their

Youth 17, Killed Sunday Evening At Cross Keys; Woman, 71, Is Fatally Hurt

Mrs. Rebecca I. (Miller) Steffan, 71, 309 W. High St., New Oxford, was killed instantly Saturday night at 7:15 o'clock when a car operated by her husband, George E. Steffan, 75, went down an embankment 2 1/2 miles north of McSherrystown and west of McSherrystown and crashed into trees.

The Adams County coroner, Dr. C. G. Crist, said the death was caused by a fractured skull, broken neck and internal injuries.

Steffan suffered lacerations of the forehead, left eye and nose and was admitted as a patient at the Hanover Hospital for X-ray examination.

WERE CHRISTMAS SHOPPING

According to state police the couple had been Christmas shopping in Hanover Saturday. Enroute to their home in New Oxford, they stopped at McSherrystown to visit with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Kegel, 51 Main St., McSherrystown.

They started home, driving west on the new road to the Bethlehem Quarries.

According to police, the car entered the dead-end intersection of that road with the McSherrystown-New Oxford Rd., near Irish-town, crossed the road and went down an eight-foot embankment, hitting a clump of three trees head on.

PINNED IN WRECKAGE

Mrs. Steffan was pinned between the front seat and the dashboard. Her husband was at the wheel when the McSherrystown ambulance and the Hanover fire company ambulance arrived at the scene.

Mrs. Steffan was removed with her husband to the Hanover Hospital where Dr. Donald E. Withers pronounced Mrs. Steffan dead and summoned the Adams County coroner since the death had occurred in Conewago Twp.

Conewago Twp. Police and state police joined Dr. Crist in the investigation.

SERVICES TUESDAY

The couple had resided for the last 49 years in New Oxford and had celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary October 26 with an open house and family dinner.

A daughter of the late Augustus and Jennie A. (Carns) Miller, Mrs. Steffan was a native of Abbottstown. She was a member of St. Paul's United Church of Christ and Sunday School in New Oxford.

Survivors include her husband, George E. "Dick" Steffan; the daughter, Mrs. Joseph W. Kegel, McSherrystown; a brother, Robert P. Miller, McSherrystown; two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

CARS CRASH TODAY

Cars operated by Charles Heindel, 59, Fayetteville, and Herman L. Newman, 41, 39 Patrick Ave., Littlestown, collided this morning at 6 o'clock nine miles north of here on the Harrisburg Rd. Damage was estimated by police at $200 to the Heindel car and $100 to Newman's vehicle. Newman, according to the officers, was headed north on the Harrisburg Rd. when the Heindel car came into Route 15 from a side road.

Ivan Lee Miller, 17, New Oxford R. 2, son of Mrs. Catherine Lentz, Orrtanna, was fatally injured Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock when his car entered the Cross Keys intersection a mile east of New Oxford and crashed into an eastbound tractor-trailer.

The Adams County coroner, Dr. C. G. Crist, said the youth died of a compound fracture of the skull. The coroner was called when the Miller youth was pronounced dead at the Hanover Hospital.

The fatal accident occurred less than 12 hours before workmen were scheduled to begin installation of traffic lights at the dangerous intersection.

Two other occupants of the Miller car were injured, neither apparently seriously, and another escaped injury.

By coincidence Dr. Crist had talked with young Miller at the Hanover Hospital Saturday evening when the coroner was called there on another fatal auto accident. Twenty-four hours later when Dr. Crist returned to the hospital, he found Miller dead of accident injuries. The youth had been at the hospital Saturday evening to accompany a friend there for treatment for an injury to a finger. He and the coroner had discussed mutual acquaintances in the Mt. Carmel area.

HAD SHOUTED WARNING

State police said Miller had been headed north on the Hanover-Carlisle Rd. and failed to stop for the stop sign, his car continuing into the intersection and colliding with a tractor-trailer en route from Cleveland to Philadelphia and operated by Eugene C. Punt, 53, Indianapolis, Ind. Police estimated damage to the tractor-trailer at $1,500 and placed the value of the 1950 car of Miller, which was demolished, at $75.

Dr. Crist said occupants of Miller's car told him immediately after the accident that they had shouted at Miller to stop before the collision with the tractor-trailer. Injured in the accident included Linda Rae Gorman, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gorman, of Mt. Misery, New Oxford R. 1. She was admitted to the Hanover Hospital with head injuries and cuts of the mouth and face. She had been a passenger in the right front seat of the Miller vehicle.

ONE GIRL UNHURT

Barry L. Herring, 19, New Oxford R. 2, was removed to the Hanover Hospital with other occupants of the Miller car, but physicians there referred him to his family physician for treatment of a laceration of the left hand. He had been riding in the right rear seat of the car.

Donna M. Power, 15, of 113 N. Third St., McSherrystown, a passenger in the left rear seat of the Miller vehicle, was not injured. The injured were removed to the Hanover Hospital in the hospital ambulance.

ARE INSTALLING LIGHTS

The Cross Keys intersection has been the scene of more than 30 accidents, including three fatalities, in the last three years. Work began this morning on the installation of traffic lights there. Decision to place a traffic light there was made several months ago when the county agreed to pay all the costs of installation. Two of the townships involved in paying the costs of the maintenance of the traffic light were relatively eager for the lights to be placed, but a third township involved agreed to the proposal only recently. Contracts were then let and the work began today.

LBJ Promises NATO Yanks To Stay In Europe To Fill Need

By TOM OCHILTREE
Associated Press Staff Writer.
PARIS (AP)—President Johnson assured the North Atlantic Alliance today that the United States will maintain its troop strength in Europe so long as these men are needed.

Johnson's promise was contained in a message read by Secretary of State Dean Rusk at the opening of NATO's 3-day winter ministerial meeting to survey the state of Western defenses and hopes for peace.

Johnson stressed that his administration would continue the late President Kennedy's strong line of support for NATO.

Johnson called for "a balanced NATO defense posture, including powerful nuclear and non-nuclear forces, which will deter aggression." The President added.

"To NATO's continuing fulfillment of this task, I pledge my country's will and resources. We will keep in Europe the equivalent of six American divisions that are now deployed there, so long as they are needed; and under present circumstances there is no doubt that they will continue to be needed."

With his pledge, the new American President tried to put at rest the speculation that has been current in Europe since the "Big Lift" exercise two months ago that a sizable withdrawal of U.S. troops was in the wind. Other U.S. officials have also given such assurances repeatedly since Big Lift.

File Three Charges In Fatal Accident

Richard M. Rebert, 19, Hanover, was charged Saturday afternoon by State Policeman Edwin Karr before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder with involuntary manslaughter and drag racing. He was released on $500 bail on each charge to appear later.

Philip Elitz, 18, Hanover, at the same time was charged before the justice with drag racing and was also released on $500 bail.

Both charges arose as a result of the findings of a coroner's jury Friday. Rebert had been the driver of a car in which Calvin J. Elitz, 17, and Gary Lee Forry, 21, both of Hanover, were fatally injured Thanksgiving afternoon. The jury found that Rebert had been racing his car with a car operated by Philip Elitz, a brother of the one who was killed in the crash of the Rebert car near McSherrystown.

YANK FLYERS WASH ASHORE AFTER CRASH

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The bodies of three American aviators missing after their helicopter crashed into the ocean were recovered on a lonely beach in central Viet Nam today.

The bodies were flown to Saigon for an autopsy to determine the cause of death. No wreckage was sighted.

The copilot, only survivor of the crash 15 miles south of Quang Ngai, told authorities the helicopter crashed Saturday night half a mile offshore as it started to land to pick up wounded Vietnamese troops.

The American spokesman said the three dead Americans were considered noncombat casualties.

The copilot said the helicopter was coming in for a landing "when suddenly I found water around my knees." Two accompanying helicopters completed their missions.

The copilot swam ashore and spent Saturday night hiding in the bushes. He contacted government rescuers Sunday.

A U.S. officer was killed when Communist guerrillas fired at a battalion of Vietnamese infantrymen in the jungles of northern Quang Tin province. The officer was an adviser to the battalion. There were no other government casualties.

Two officials from Dickinson College were present to state that Hagerman had been an excellent workman as a plumber there for the last three years. Hagerman told the court that he believed he fell asleep while driving on the four-lane Rt. 15 north of York Springs, and in that way explained how he was going north in the southbound lanes, struck a car and continued on. He was charged with hit and run driving. Ronald L. Leonard, York, in jail 11 days awaiting appearance before the court on a charge of being $574 in arrears on an order to support a child, was released "because of the time you have spent in jail" and ordered to get a job and pay the order.

FLOOD VICTIMS FLOAT 6 BLOCKS IN FAMILY CAR

EDITOR'S NOTE—What's it like to float six blocks—in the family car?

H. E. Dulude, in the following story—as told the Associated Press and the Long Beach, (Calif.) Independent, Press-Telegram—tells how his car was swept away when a reservoir broke in the Baldwin Hills.

By H. E. DULUDE

LOS ANGELES (AP)—I don't know how we did it. We floated six blocks in my car, and hit five or six other cars on the way. It's a miracle we're here.

My wife, Rosanna, and I live in an apartment below the Baldwin Hills Reservoir. My sister, Mrs. Orise Giguere, had come to visit from her apartment next door when we heard helicopters warning everyone to evacuate.

It was about 2:45 p.m. Saturday. The helicopters said the dam was breaking.

I went out and started the motor on the car and told the girls to hurry up.

CAUGHT BY WATER

Rosanna looked up the street as she came out and screamed, "The water is coming."

She jumped in the car with us and I tried to outrun the water. I didn't make it.

The next thing I knew, my new white sedan was hurled into the air by a horrible force of water.

I am an amputee and have special controls on my car. I kept trying to drive while we were bobbing up and down like a cork in that ocean. We floated straight down the street. We bounced off other cars, some floating, some sinking.

The car hit a pole at the intersection of La Brea Avenue and Rodeo Road and it deflected us between two buildings, a grocery and a restaurant.

DEEP WATER

I looked up and saw police officers on the roofs of the two buildings. The water was about 11 feet deep in through there.

Officer R. J. Holoubek of the Los Angeles Police Department jumped into the water and swam toward us, shouting, "Close the windows, close the windows." We did. The car was filling up, now. Water was up to our waists.

Other police officers jumped in and formed a human chain to keep the car from floating off.

Holoubek opened the door of the car with one hand and pulled us out with his other. I have never seen anything like what happened today. Before I retired, my wife and I lived in Topanga Canyon and twice we had to flee from brush fires. But at least we were able to escape—but what can you do when tons of water and mud surround you?

We spent the night on a high school gymnasium floor—at an evacuation center—and then, later, learned that our home and all of our belongings are gone. But thank God—and thanks to Officer Holoubek—we are alive!

Tin Miners Delay Release Of Hostages For Final Word From Leftist Union Leader

By THOMAS J. STONE
Associated Press Staff Writer
LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—Communist-led tin miners continued to hold 19 hostages today, including four Americans, while awaiting an explanation of a deal for their release negotiated by leftist Vice President Juan Lechin.

It was hoped the hostages would be released sometime today after Lechin, head of the Miners' Union, explains the agreement at a general meeting in Catavi, the mining center 180 miles southeast of La Paz, where the hostages were held.

DELAY RELEASE

Originally, the 19 were expected to be freed Sunday night, but some radio stations controlled by the miners criticized the agreement and accused the union leadership of capitulating to government pressure.

However, sources close to the miners believed Lechin, who arrived in Catavi Sunday night, would have no trouble convincing the rank and file to free the hostages.

The miners seized the hostages in Catavi Dec. 6 as pawns to bargain for the release of two Communist union leaders arrested by the government of President Victor Paz Estenssoro on a number of charges.

AGREE TO TRY LEADERS

In exchange for the release of the hostages, the government agreed to put the two union leaders — Irineo Pimental and Federico Escobar — on trial in Catavi instead of in La Paz and to release them on bail. The government also agreed to withdraw 3,000 troops and police sent into the mine areas after the hostages were seized.

U.S. Ambassador Douglas Henderson and Derek Singer, head of the U.S. Peace Corps contingent in Bolivia, flew to Oruro, 30 miles from Catavi, with Lechin. They remained in Oruro to await developments.

WITHDREW TROOPS

President Paz Estenssoro sent his military chief, Gen. Alfredo Ovando, to Oruro to pick up the hostages and order the troop withdrawal.

Despite the delay, Paz Estenssoro said Sunday night he was optimistic the captives would be freed.

The four American hostages are Bernard Rifkin, 52, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., a labor adviser for the U.S. Agency for International Development; Robert Fergerson, 26, of Honolulu, a Peace Corps volunteer; and two information officers at the U.S. Embassy in La Paz—Michael A. Kristula, 41, who has relatives in Niles, Ill., and Cadillac, Mich., and Thomas M. Martin Jr., 27, of the Bronx, N.Y.

TRADING MODERATE

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market struggled to maintain a ragged advance early this afternoon. Trading was moderate. Numerous key issues pushed ahead a point or so and more of the major sections were mostly higher. But the over-all tone was muddled as it was most of last week.

Year-end cross currents involving tax-loss selling, reinvestment demand and profit-taking confused the picture.

LOCAL DAMAGE

Richard Tackett reported to borough police Saturday that on Friday night a car knocked down stakes and wire at the high school.

Three Lose

The many-faced investigation starting today will attempt to answer:

WHY IT BROKE

Mayor Samuel Yorty, who wants to know why the dam broke.

Thousands of flood victims, who want to know why they pay for the damage.

Thousands of other residents, living below similar reservoirs, and wondering.

The Small Business Administration declared Baldwin Hills a disaster area, making available long-term, low interest loans for flood victims.

Some facts and theories are already being advanced.

Max K. Socha, chief engineer of water works for the department, said the dam was of the most advanced design.

SEE RUGGED HOLES

But he said that with the reservoir now empty, a long series of ragged holes can be seen in the asphalt inner surface of the dam.

The holes lead in a straight line from one side to the big break in the wall and may have been the leaks that caused the dam to collapse, Socha said.

Other possibilities mentioned included earth tremors, subsidence from oil drilling, and cracking and stretching of the whole area.

Payment for damage will probably hinge on a court decision on the cause of the break.

The Department of Water and Power is covered by $14.8 million in insurance, but, if it is found that the dam collapsed because of an "act of God" rather than structural failure, the insurance companies might not have to pay.

NO FLOOD INSURANCE

Most homeowners did not have flood insurance because of the high rates.

Baldwin Hills is an area of rolling hills in the western section of Los Angeles near Culver City, south of Hollywood and near MGM studios.

Its residents were occupied with their usual Saturday chores, recreation and Christmas shopping when a caretaker discovered the first pencil-thin

Knightstown, where the Lincoln Highway changes from a three-lane to a two-lane highway. The car then struck guardrails, causing $400 damage to the vehicle.

Paul Edward Humphrey, 17, New Oxford, escaped injury Sunday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock when he lost control of his car on a curve 100 feet south of Abbottstown on the Hanover Rd. Humphrey was driving north and his car left the highway and struck a fence owned by Maurice Neiman, Abbottstown R. 1. Damage to the auto was estimated at $250 and to the fence at $25.

LOSES CONTROL

Two persons were hurt Saturday night at 11:45 o'clock 2½ miles west of Fairfield on the Zora Road when the driver attempted to close the door on the passenger's side. State police said Charles Lewis Harris, 50, Smithburg R. 1, Md., was driving his German-made car west when he reached across the seat to close the door on the passenger's side. He lost control and his vehicle struck a culvert causing $200 damage. Harris suffered a laceration of the lip. His wife, Bobbi M. Harris, 47, had a bruised head and hand.

No one was injured in an auto accident two miles east of Bonnaville on the Hanover Rd. at 10:35 Saturday morning. A car being driven east by Michael R. Smith, 18, Hanover, sideswiped a west-bound vehicle operated by Peter Letrick, 50, Gettysburg.

CRASH ON SATURDAY

Damage was estimated at $200 to the Smith car and $600 to Letrick's vehicle. After the accident the cars struck a utility pole, causing $125 damage to the pole.

No one was injured and damage totaled $170 when two cars collided 1½ miles south of here on the Littlestown Rd. at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. State police said Lester L. Cool, 28, Littlestown R. 2, was driving north and attempted to make a left turn just as another northbound car, operated by Johnny Quentin Sachs, 19, Gettysburg R. 1, attempted to pass Cool's sedan. Damage was estimated at $70 to Cool's car and $100 to Sachs' vehicle.

In other congressional action Congressman George A. Gooding voted against passage of a compromise bill to help states and local agencies combat air pollution. The bill was passed by a vote of 273-109. Gooding also voted against a compromise bill authorizing $3.6 billion for foreign aid, which was passed by the House 195-163. The local congressional bill did not vote on the $4.4 billion public works appropriations bill which was passed 328-47.

Aluminum Industry Making Big Plans

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The aluminum industry will be characterized during the next few years by aggressive marketing for all aluminum applications, coupled with major expenditures for new production facilities, predicts an Aluminum Co. of America official.

Lawrence Litchfield Jr., Alcoa board chairman, also said Sunday in a year-end statement that the industry's most pressing problem remains price improvement on fabricated products.

However, a trend for the better has been in evidence recently, he said.

Litchfield said 1963 could be Alcoa's first billion-dollar year in gross revenues. If it isn't, then 1964 should be, he added.

Maryland State Police Friday night transported a Lantz man to Washington County General Hospital, Hagerstown, after he was injured in an accident just south of Thurmont shortly before 6 p.m.

Treated at Frederick Memorial Hospital and transferred to Hagerstown was Lawrence S. Forrest. State police said he was suffering from crushed vertebrae.

Also injured in the accident, according to state police, was Edwin Fellows of Emmitsburg, treated for facial lacerations and released.

Tfc. Neil F. Bechtol, the investigating officer, said Fellows was traveling north on Route 15 about 2½ miles south of Thurmont with Forrest as a passenger and, in the process of rounding a slight left curve, apparently fell asleep. The vehicle collided with a stop sign, traveled along an embankment and came to rest in the southbound lane of traffic, Tfc. Bechtol said.

Listed by police as the probable cause of the accident were sleep and excessive speed.

Two State Solons Back College Bill

Senators Joseph Clark and Hugh Scott both supported the recent Senate bill authorizing $1.2 billion for college construction, according to an Associated Press release from Washington today. The bill was passed by a vote of 54-27.

In other congressional action Congressman George A. Gooding voted against passage of a compromise bill to help states and local agencies combat air pollution. The bill was passed by a vote of 273-109. Gooding also voted against a compromise bill authorizing $3.6 billion for foreign aid, which was passed by the House 195-163. The local congressional bill did not vote on the $4.4 billion public works appropriations bill which was passed 328-47.

Foreign Aid Bill Slashed $1.7 Billion By House Unit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House debates foreign aid appropriations today as an adjournment-bent Congress begins its final week of work.

The House Appropriations Committee has recommended $2,801,700,000 in new funds for the aid program—$1,723,625,000 below the request of the late President John F. Kennedy. President Johnson has appealed to Congress to reverse the reduction lest the United States be forced "to follow policies of weakness and retreat."

The foreign aid appropriation is part of a $4,430,966,960 major measure, one of six that are the main items on Congress' program this week.

MAY CLOSE FRIDAY

The decks have also been cleared of everything else controversial, and leaders hope to call it quits Friday after more than 11 months of almost continuous session. The prospect is, however, that the windup will come as usual either late Saturday or early Sunday.

There also is concern that after Thursday it may be hard to keep a majority of the Senate and the House in Washington to transact business. Many members already have left and others plan to depart soon.

STATE SHIVERS AS COLD GRIPS WESTERN AREA

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A blast of frigid air gripped most parts of western Pennsylvania today. Even colder temperatures are predicted for tonight.

The thermometer dipped to zero at Franklin and Washington overnight. Other readings, all above zero, were Pittsburgh, 5; Butler, 9; Bedford, 10; Altoona, 10; and Punxsutawney, 7.

Most of the district had only snow flurries, if at all, during the night. The exceptions were in McKean County where Bradford had three inches and Smethport had four inches of new snow. Coudersport, Potter County, had two inches of snowfall.

20 IN ERIE

Erie, digging out from a seven-inch snowfall during the weekend, had a relatively warm overnight reading of 20 degrees.

In Pittsburgh two major auto clubs were swamped Sunday with calls from distressed motorists. Most of the troubles concerned dead batteries and frozen fuel lines.

Repair garages were reportedly two to three hours behind in responding to calls.

The weatherman says the extreme cold will continue through Tuesday.

The high today is predicted to be in the twenties. The low tonight will hover around the zero mark in many district localities.

Scattered snow flurries are predicted for western Pennsylvania with as much as three inches forecast in north portions.

CAGE STAR IS DRAGGED TO HIS DEATH BY AUTO

NEW YORK (AP)—A factory clerk is charged with homicide in the death of a basketball star run down by an automobile that police say was deliberately aimed at a group of college students.

The victim was Mike Schaffer, 19, sophomore star at City College, who only an hour earlier had led his teammates to their fourth straight victory.

He was high scorer with 18 points in Saturday night's 74-44 triumph over Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute of Troy, N.Y.

After the game, Schaffer left the uptown Manhattan gymnasium with nine other boys and girls, including his girl friend, Molly Irgang, 15. They began walking toward a subway. But death intervened five blocks away.

DRAGGED A BLOCK
Police said a young motorist, after making remarks to the girls and scuffling briefly with one of the boys, climbed back into his auto and gunned it right at the group. All jumped to safety except Schaffer, who apparently didn't see the car coming. He was dragged almost a block.

About four hours later, armed with the license number of the auto, police arrested Eddie Weissman, 19, of Manhattan, and charged him with homicide.

Weissman admitted being in the car at the time Schaffer was killed but denied trying to hit anyone with it, police said. He was held without bail.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Both Houses of Congress adjourned from Thursday last until Monday. On Saturday the members of Congress and their ladies were to visit the fleet of the Russian Admiral by invitation of the Admiral. The fleet is lying off the Navy Yard. We suppose all the dignitaries of the Government will be there and the affair will no doubt be a magnificent one. The strong friendly feelings exhibited towards our country by the Emperor of Russia in the struggle in which we are engaged has given rise to the warmest attention in our cities to the officers of the splendid fleet of the Emperor which has visited us. These things will bind us closer together.

Hon. Edward McPherson: It gives us the highest satisfaction to announce that our late talented member of Congress, Hon. Edward McPherson, was elected Clerk of the House of Representatives of the U. S. States on Thursday last by the decisive vote of 101 to 69 — the late clerk, Mr. Etheridge, being his opponent. No man is better qualified for this position than Mr. McPherson, and few officers are more desirable at Washington. It is a high compliment to our townsman and to our State particularly as the Secretary of the Senate, Col. Forney, is also a Pennsylvanian. We have no hesitancy in saying in advance that the office has never been better filled than now as regards business qualifications, talent and industry. We congratulate our esteemed young friend on his election.

On Thursday last in the Senate of the United States, Mr. Clark, of N.H., introduced a bill to grant a pension to John L. Burns, of Gettysburg, which was read the first time.

Advice received from the Army of the Potomac states that we occupy the same position precisely as before the advance. The report that General Lee has thrown a force across the Rapidan is incorrect. That it is the intention to keep our army in its present position, unless unforeseen circumstances arise, seems to be settled. The long continuance of clear weather before New Year's is said to be generally a precursor of storms and rains and the men are busily engaged in building. A rumor prevailed in the army on Thursday that General Lee had, under a flag of truce, forwarded a request to General Meade for an armistice of three months duration.

President Lincoln has sent a noble letter to Gen. Grant. It is as follows: Washington, Dec. 8 — Maj. Gen. Grant: Understanding that your lodgment at Chattanooga and Knoxville is now secure, I wish to tender you, and all under your command, my more than thanks — my profoundest gratitude — for the skill, courage and perseverance with which you and they, over so great difficulties, have effected that important object. God bless you all! A. LINCOLN.

"DEADLINE" PRESSURE

In the printing business, when a writer or artist is told by his editor that a certain future date is his "deadline" for handing in copy or drawings, he knows he can no longer procrastinate! If the articles or art work are not turned in by the time specified, the "forms" are locked up and the material will have arrived too late for publication.

Bafflingly, many artists and authors persist in waiting until their "deadline" all but descends upon them. They then work fast and furiously — frequently turning out more inspired copy than they would have had they allowed themselves plenty of time in which to complete their work.

Paradoxically, we all do better work under pressure — during times when our souls are tried and when we come to the realization that something definite depends upon how we think and work and live!

Dr. Samuel Johnson was poor most of his life — but he handled great wealth to the end of years that have come and gone since his death. When his mother died Johnson had not sufficient money with which to bury her. In a single week, though, under the pressure of want, he penned his great "Rasselas" and was rewarded with enough to give her a worthy burial!

When "hot" and "cold" wars are not the order of the day, when times are "good" and everyone seems prosperous, it is comparatively easy to succeed. It is during times of great stress that men are called upon to assert all that they own of courage and character!

Stumbling from this to that has never made a happy nor a successful career. "Deadline" pressure drives a man on. But the preparation is important. The revelation of greatness points to the simple and essential things, the forgotten tasks that build character for emergencies — all preparation for meeting the "deadline"!

Some years ago I drove through the beautiful national park of Valley Forge, in Pennsylvania, where Washington camped his ragged army during one of the most discouraging and diabolical winters that could try a leader. It is all beautiful and peaceful in that part of the country now. But a great heart, under almost superhuman pressure, made that place what it is today.

No one can forever sidestep the "deadlines." Let us face our tasks — meet the "deadline" pressure — and carry on!

Cashtown Items: Mr. C. Deardoff, teacher of our school here, has organized a literary society which will meet every Friday evening. It should be encouraged by every one as it gives an opportunity of hearing the opinions and different ideas on many interesting subjects. We now can hear the trains moving regularly on the W.M. Extension which is a great convenience to the community and should have been built many years ago, but there seemed to be little progressiveness in the old management. If there would have been more, Gettysburg and Chambersburg would have been linked together by an iron chain long ago.

Battlefield Notes: The report of Gen. Chas. G. Graham, Engineer of the New York Commissioners, on Gettysburg monuments has been submitted and is an interesting document. From it we learn a site has been selected by the Commissioners for the memorial structure to the memory of the officers and soldiers who fell in the Battle of Gettysburg, and their choice has been approved in a letter from the War Department to General Sickles.

"The site selected for New York's monument," says Gen. Graham, "is one of the most commanding in the environs of Gettysburg, being in the southern part of the National Cemetery proper and adjacent to the Taneytown Road. From its surface an extensive view may be

Just Folks

Oh, little does the worrying do,
Small good we gain by fretting,
T'were better for me and you
To cultivate forgetting.

Let's stir the fires of faith and keep
The coals of courage glowing,
And all the secret times we weep,
Let no one else be knowing.

The trifling care that weigh us down
Are never eased by sighing;
A smile is braved than a frown,
And far more satisfying.

Oh, what if skies are dull today?
The sun may shine tomorrow;
Let's put the petty hurt away
And save our tears for sorrow.

Small good it does to fume and fret
And worry over trifles,
Too much of gloom, like ashes wet,
The fire of courage stifles.

Let's keep our brave hearts in repair,
Our faith the best of all things,
Staunch for the griefs that we must bear;
Not broken down by small things.

had of the greater part of the second and third days' battles, and if the monument itself is of appropriate design and liberal in execution it will be decidedly the most interesting artificial object on the field, surpassing in every other respect, except in its hallowed association, the farm-famed National Monument itself." The report further states that forty-six monuments have already been erected and it is expected that thirty-two additional ones will be dedicated next summer. The monument to Cooper's Battery on East Cemetery Hill is being placed in position now.

G-burg Matmen Trounce Bucknell For 3rd Win; Freshmen Also Triumph

Getting off to a quick start with two decisions and a pair of pins in the first four bouts, the Gettysburg College wrestling team rolled to its third straight win by walloping Bucknell 24-6 Saturday afternoon on the home mats before a large crowd.

Hayes Kline, Bullet 130-pounder, ran his winning streak to 13 in a row as he pinned Bucknell's Mike Andrews in 23 seconds of the second period. Joe O'Donnell followed in the 137 class with a pin over Mike Matzko of Bucknell in 43 seconds of the second frame. Gettysburg's third record fall of the afternoon went to Jeff Alwink in the heavy-weight battle. Alwink slammed George Lake to the mats in 2:28 of the third and final period.

Doug Wight and Joe Bavaro chipped in with decisions to get the Bullets moving in the early bouts. Pete McDowell followed in the 167-pound event to help clinch the victory.

Saturday's victory gave Gettysburg its first win over the Bisons since 1957 when the Bullets carried off a 22-7 verdict. Bucknell then ran off with the next five outings.

Coach Ray Reider's Bullet yearlings pulled a surprise by trouncing what was reported to be a powerful Bucknell freshman team in the preliminary bouts. The Bullet frosh recorded a 20-6 decision for their second win of the year.

The Gettysburg wrestlers will be idle until January 8 when they come back from Christmas vacation to take on the Red Devils of Dickinson on the home mats. The Bullet frosh will tangle with York Junior College in the preliminaries.

EAGLES END BAD SEASON WITH DEFEAT

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Coach Nick Skorich made two observations Sunday after his Philadelphia Eagles were clobbered 34-13 by the Minnesota Vikings:

1. The Eagles played "miserable."
2. He would like to be back as head coach.

There was general agreement on Skorich's first remark. The Eagles not only played poorly, but as the coach himself put it, they quit in the fourth quarter after Minnesota took a 27-13 lead on a 31-yard return of the intercepted screen pass.

A SORRY END

It was a sorry end to a sorry season for Philadelphia. The Eagles finished last in the National Football League's Eastern Division with a 2-10-2 record. And to add insult to injury, the final humiliation was heaped upon them by Norm Van Brocklin.

Van Brocklin quarterbacked the 1960 Eagles to the NFL title over Green Bay, and then retired as an active player. He went to Minnesota as head coach after the Eagles refused him a similar job here. His Vikings, only three years in existence, wound up with a 5-8-1 record, tied for fourth in the Western Division.

It was after Don Hultz, a husky defensive end, grabbed a Sonny Jurgensen screen pass and romped for a TD with 6:16 left to play that the Eagles obviously gave up. Skorich said flatly: "At that point they quit."

NO OTHER PLANS

Asked about his future, Skorich said, "No man wants to leave something he loves. I love coaching. My contract expires Jan. 31. I have no other plans now, but to finish out the pact and talk over things with the Eagles."

Skorich said he won't make any excuses for the season since he realizes the won-lost record is the criteria of a coach's success or failure.

"I did the best with what I had," he said.

WANTS TO RETURN

He pointed out that his No. 1 passer, Jurgensen, was out most of the season. Several key line-men also were sidelined.

"I would very much like to return and coach the Eagles next year," Skorich said. "We have the nucleus of a fine team. We need a healthy squad, a few breaks and some help from our draft, and we'll be a contender in 1964. We would have been a contender this year if we could have fielded a healthy team."

ORIOLES GET HADDIX FOR ROOKIE, CASH

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Harvey Haddix, a 38-year-old left-handed pitcher who made baseball history as a loser, was the last name player to be dispatched between the National and American leagues in an unproductive interleague trading period that ended at midnight Sunday.

Haddix, who pitched 12 perfect innings in a losing effort against Milwaukee in 1959, was traded by Pittsburgh to Baltimore Saturday for minor leaguer Dick Yench, a shortstop who hit .308 for Stockton in the California League last year.

Then, Sunday, Kansas City and the Chicago Cubs completed the final trade of the month-long inter-league session. The A's sent pitcher Fred Norman to the Cubs in exchange for outfielder Nelson Matthews.

Bristling with trade rumors almost from the start, the inter-league period wound up with only five transactions completed and only 11 players involved. In all, 15 deals, involving 39 players, have been made since the close of the 1962 season.

Haddix spent 12 years in the National League with St. Louis, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. He was 20-9 for the Cardinals in 1953 and in 1960 won two World Series games for the Pirates against the Yankees. He has a lifetime record of 128 victories and 106 losses.

HAWKS MAKE RACE TIGHTER

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks, displaying a balanced offense along with an effective defense have tightened the National Basketball Association.

The Hawks turned back Los Angeles 102-95 Sunday night and moved into a virtual tie for first place with the Lakers. In the only other game played, the San Francisco Warriors whipped the Baltimore Bullets 122-97.

Los Angeles boasts a slight percentage lead over St. Louis — .621 to .613 — with the teams tied in the games behind column. The Lakers have an 18-11 record while the Hawks are 19-12.

Five St. Louis players hit double figures, led by Bob Pettit's 26 points. The Hawks jumped off to a 31-23 lead and never were headed. Dick Barnett topped the Lakers with 21.

In Saturday night's games, Philadelphia defeated New York 123-119, Cincinnati beat Boston 108-105, St. Louis topped Detroit 104-92 and Los Angeles downed Baltimore 113-108.

HAWKS HOLD DETROIT TO TIE

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Maybe the Chicago Black Hawks aren't going to run away with the National Hockey League championship after all.

The Hawks, who lost only one of their first 14 games, now have failed to win their last three games. They lost to Boston 2-1 Thursday night and to Detroit 5-4 Saturday. On Sunday back at home, Chicago failed to hold a 4-2 lead against Detroit in the final period. The Hawks salvaged a 4-4 tie, which kept them in first place by eight points over Montreal and Toronto, tied for second.

Toronto played a 4-4 deadlock with Boston and Montreal lost to New York 4-2 in Sunday's other games. Saturday, Toronto beat New York 5-3 and Montreal downed Boston 3-1 in addition to Detroit's win over Chicago.

Goals by Doug Barkley and Eddie Joyal within a span of two minutes midway of the last period brought Detroit from behind for its tie with the Black Hawks. Boston similarly overcame a 4-2 deficit to tie Toronto. Dean Prentice got the tying goal with a 30-foot back-hander.

TITTLE SUPERB IN GIANT WIN OVER STEELERS

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Allie Sherman fought his way through the mob surrounding Y. A. Tittle's locker in the mad, mad clubhouse of the New York Giants.

"You did as fine a job as any quarterback I have ever seen," said the Giants' coach, shaking the hand of the bald oldtimer who threw three record-breaking TD passes in the Giants' 33-17 victory over Pittsburgh in Sunday's winner-take-all game for the Eastern Conference title.

Tittle, named the National Football League's most valuable player in an Associated Press poll, was superb. He completed 17 of 26 passes for a gross 306 yards.

HE HAD HELP

But Tittle had help, especially from Frank Gifford and Joe Morrison and those men up front who kept the Steeler rush off his back most of the cold, windy afternoon.

Gifford made a truly sensational one-handed catch in the third period that was the turning point, if a 33-17 game has such a thing. The Steelers, trailing 16-3 at halftime, had closed to 16-10 and the Giants were on their own 23 on a third-and-eight situation. Gifford grabbed Tittle's pass with one hand for a 30-yard gain.

"All I was trying to do was bat the ball up in the air—and it stuck in my hand," Gifford said. "It was the biggest catch I ever made."

3RD STRAIGHT TITLE

Sherman had praise for Morrison, who scored three touchdowns, and everyone on the team. But he kept coming back to Tittle, who finished with a season record 36 touchdown passes.

It was the third straight Eastern title for Sherman since he succeeded the retired Jim Lee Howell.

Morrison, filling in for the ailing Alex Webster, caught two of Tittle's TD passes and also scored on a one-yard plunge. Del Shoffner caught a scoring "bomb" from Y. A. for 41 yards before he was injured. Shoffner suffered bruised ribs on the right side and didn't play the second half. Don Chandler added the first and last points with field goals of 4 and 41 yards.

4 RECORDS SET IN NFL PLAY

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four records were set and one tied as the National Football League ended regular season play Sunday.

Cleveland's Jimmy Brown became the first player to gain more than a mile on the ground, picking up 125 yards against Washington to bring his record total to 1,863 yards.

New York's Y. A. Tittle passed for three touchdowns against Pittsburgh, surpassing his own record by bringing his TD total passing to 36 for the season.

Baltimore's Johnny Unitas wound up with 236 completions, surpassing the record of 235 by Sonny Jurgensen of Philadelphia in 1961.

Minnesota rookie Don Hultz recovered his ninth fumble, against Philadelphia, bettering the record of eight by Detroit's Joe Schmidt in 1955.

San Francisco's Tommy Davis is kicked his 156th consecutive extra point, tying the record set by George Blanda, with Chicago, from 1949-56.

New York Knicks Get Bob Boozer

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Knicks have acquired Bob Boozer, former All - America from Kansas State, and Johnny Egan, former Providence Star, in another step to regain prestige in the National Basketball Association.

The 6-foot-8 Boozer, a corner man, and the speedy 6-foot Egan, a play-maker, came to the last place Knicks on Sunday in a three-club deal with the Cincinnati Royals and the Detroit Pistons.

The Knicks first traded Dennis Butcher and Bob Duffy, plus a player to be named at the 1964 draft meeting, to Detroit for Egan and Larry Staversman. Staversman then was traded, plus an undisclosed amount of cash, to Cincinnati for Boozer.

BEARS, GIANTS ARE WINNERS IN KEY GAMES

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
Y. A. Tittle was present. Night Train Lane was absent.

One was more apparent than the other, but each held the key Sunday for the New York Giants and Chicago Bears, who battled their way into the National Football League's championship game, at Chicago, Dec. 29.

Tittle passed for three touchdowns, setting a season record of 36, as the Giants overwhelmed the Pittsburgh Steelers 33-17 in a winner-take-all showdown and clinched their third consecutive Eastern Conference title.

PACKERS ARE OUT

The Bears steered their passes at the sector covered by Tom Hall, Lane's replacement, rode to a 24-14 victory over the Detroit Lions on the arm of Billy Wade and clinched their first Western Conference title since 1956.

The Chicago triumph eliminated the Green Bay Packers, who had won the Western championship three consecutive years and the league title twice in succession. The Bears finished with a 11-1-2 record to 11-2-1 for the Packers, who defeated San Francisco 21-17 Saturday.

Tittle "was tremendous," said Giants Coach Allie Sherman. Tittle "was great," said Steelers' Coach Buddy Parker. And Tittle said Frank Gifford's amazing catch of an off-target Tittle pass "was a savior."

ONE-HANDED CATCH

The Steelers had closed to 16-10 in the third quarter, and seemed to be gaining momentum. Then Tittle fired, and Gifford reached out his right hand to bat the ball into the air for a second try at grabbing it. But he didn't have to; he had caught it one-handed.

The play gained 30 yards to the Steeler 47. Tittle immediately arched another pass to Gifford, then hit Joe Morrison with a 22-yarder for the touchdown that broke it open.

LANE MISSED GAME

"We did most of our passing on the side where Lane was missing. They had Mike Ditka pretty well hemmed in and it left Morris more open than usual."

Hall, a two-year vet, was covering Morris when he hauled in a 51-yard pass from Wade that pulled the Bears out front to stay. Three minutes later Wade connected with Ditka on a 22-yard scoring strike that clinched it.

Lane, a 12-year veteran, missed the game because of the death of his wife, singer Dinah Washington.

GEORGE MIRA SIGNS SUNDAY WITH '49ERS

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

George Mira isn't complaining. A character with no sense of the dramatic swiped the Miami wizard's final forward pass as a collegian and spoiled an otherwise brilliant farewell effort in Miami's 17-12 loss to Alabama Saturday.

But George has a piece of the major college completion record and a hefty professional contract to ease the pain.

Mira signed with the San Francisco 49ers of the National Football League Sunday, 24 hours after he matched Loyola, Calif., quarterback Don Kolsterman's 368 career completions and almost engineered a Miami upset of the Sugar Bowl-bound Crimson Tide.

KILLING INTERCEPTION

Alabama's Jackie Sherill made the killing interception to choke off Miami's last drive and deprive Mira of an outright record. The Tide, triggered by Gary Martin's 102-yard gallop with the opening kickoff, led, 17-0, before Mira's passes led Miami to a pair of late touchdowns. Eighth-ranked Alabama played without No. 1 signal-caller Joe Namath, suspended for training rule violations.

Mira settled for 24 completions, 30

ANTLERLESS SEASON OPENS FOR TWO DAYS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Hunters who came home empty handed during the two-week buck season which closed Saturday have another chance today and Tuesday to bag their deer for the year.

The state's seventh consecutive antlerless deer season—those deer without visible points—opened at 7 o'clock this morning and will close at 5 p.m. Tuesday.

M. J. Golden, executive director of the state Game Commission, expected about 175,000 hunters to be in the woods these two days in search of the antlerless deer.

He said that almost all of the 204,450 licenses allocated for the season have been sold. However, the turnout will not be that high, he said, because a hunter is allowed to kill only one deer a year.

PREDICT 32,000 KILLED

Golden predicted that the antlerless bag will be "at least 32,000," but that probably is a conservative estimate since 30,647 were shot during a one-day season last year.

Meanwhile, the game official urged all hunters to be safety conscious during the two-day

Cold Cuts Crowd For Bowl Game

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—A this crowd of 2,800 braved chilly winds Saturday as East Carolina College defeated Northeastern University 27-6 in the second annual Eastern Bowl.

Sponsors had hoped for a crowd of 5,000.

Fullback Tom Michel scored twice for East Carolina on runs of 82 and 15 yards. Bill Cline passed to Larry Rudisill for 81 yards and Buddy Bovender passed 18 yards to Maurice Allen for the other East Carolina scores.

Thousands of sportsmen have enjoyed deer hunting in Pennsylvania since the buck season opened on Dec. 2," he said, "But this fine sport has already been marred by five fatal and 10 non-fatal hunting accidents. This should be ample reminder to hunters that they can never afford to be careless in handling a firearm."

A third deer season—the archery season—opens Wednesday and runs through Saturday.

The week of Jan. 6 also has been set aside by the Game Commission for the bow-and-arrow sportsmen.

The regular season was to run Oct. 7-31 but it was postponed due to the severe drought conditions which gripped the state throughout the summer and fall.

SIX UNBEATEN AND UNRANKED TEAMS SHINE

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Davidson, Toledo, Creighton, Vanderbilt, UCLA and Texas—all unbeaten and unranked—came to the fore in college basketball last week.

They challenged for national recognition Kentucky, Michigan and Chicago Loyola, the only teams in The Associated Press top ten who kept their records clean during a week that saw NYU, Duke, Arizona State, Oregon State and Kansas lose for the first time. In fact Arizona State took it on the chin three straight times and Ohio State, also in the top ten, dropped two in a row.

Davidson hit the headlines early in the week by plastering Ohio State 95-73, ending a 50-game home court winning streak by the Buckeyes. The Southern Conference Wildcats walloped Jacksonville 121-93 on Saturday and now have won five straight.

NYU BAWLED OVER

Toledo, rated a power in the Mid-American Conference, bowled over second-ranked NYU 87-74 and Saturday made it six in a row by clouting San Francisco State 95-58.

Creighton likewise made it six straight with a two overtime 96-91 victory over Utah State. Chuck Officer saved the Blueja from defeat in regulation time when he got off a shot from his knees for the tying basket as the gun sounded. On Friday Creighton had nipped Arizona State 84-83.

Vanderbilt went overtime to hand Duke its first defeat at the start of the week, then crushed Arkansas 101-77 on Saturday for its fifth straight. UCLA, sparked by Walt Hazzard and Gail Goodrich, swept Kansas State 78-75 and Kansas 74-54 in the Sunflower doubleheaders at Lawrence and Manhattan, Kan. The MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cleveland Browns and Green Bay Packers will meet in the National Football League's Playoff Bowl game at Miami, Jan. 5, after winding up the regular season Sunday in second place in their respective divisions.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Hoping for a shot at the world heavyweight title, ranking contenders Jesus Pimental of Mexico and Rey Asis of Stockton, Calif., meet in a 10-round fight at the Sports Arena tonight.

Bruins now are 4-0.

Texas, the favorite in the SWC, capitalized on Jim Clark's closing heroics when he stole the ball and passed for the winning basket to beat Oklahoma 81-78. Altogether Clark figured in Texas' final six points as he pulled the Longhorns from behind in the last 60 seconds for their fifth straight.

Kentucky and Michigan, each 5-0, slaughtered Baylor 101-65 and Western Michigan 104-81 Saturday to further impress as national powers. Top-ranked Chicago Loyola was idle Saturday, but previously had trouble defeating Detroit and Western Michigan in two close games. Cincinnati, the other member of the top ten, took Wisconsin 65-60 and upped its record to 4-1.

BEARS DIDN'T LOOK TOO GOOD BUT THEY WON

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Bears never seem to look good but somehow they get the job done.

That's the way it was Sunday when they wrapped up the Western Division title of the National Football League with a 24-14 victory over Detroit and a meeting with the New York Giants for the championship Dec. 29 in Chicago.

A crowd of 45,317 ignoring 15-degree weather, actually booed quarterback Bill Wade in the first half and early in the third quarter.

WINS BACK FANS

But Wade and flanker back Johnny Morris, making his first full-time appearance in three weeks, won back the fans in the second half when the game-winning passing combination began to click.

With the Bears trailing 7-3 Wade and Morris teamed on a 51-yard touchdown pass to put the Chicagoans ahead. Another Wade-Morris aerial for 17 yards moved the Bears to the Detroit 22 before Wade fired a scoring pass to Mike Ditka.

Although this eventually proved to be enough, the Bears couldn't take matters in stride. Detroit came roaring back with a touchdown on the passing of Earl Morrall, who threw to Terry Barr for the final four yards.

PASS INTERCEPTED

The Bears still had a 17-14 lead in the final three minutes when Detroit on a 32-yard run by Tom Watkins, battered its way to the Bears 32. The Bear defense held but Chicago couldn't run out the clock and had to kick.

Once more the Lions geared for a final drive, but this time they were short-circuited as Dave Whitsett intercepted a pass and ran 36 yards into the end zone with 25 seconds left.

Now the crowd was cheering, because the Bears finally were assured of their first divisional title since 19'6 and a chant picked up the ticking of the final seconds off the scoreboard.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—

After paving the parking lot for a new apartment building, owner Bob Withers decided he would be doing everyone a favor if he used the excess asphalt to pave an access alley owned by the city. The volunteer project cost him $500.

City officials were unimpressed. Because Withers' paving didn't meet all specifications for city streets, the apartment owner was ordered to tear up his asphalt and restore the alley to dirt and gravel.

PATRIOTS AND BILLS TIED FOR TOPS IN EAST

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

"Great," said Stew Barber. "Ticked to death," said Mack Yoho. "Loved it," said Al Bemiller.

Those were the comments Sunday from the three would-be television critics—more often players for the Buffalo Bills—after taking a view of San Diego's 20-14 American Football League victory over Houston.

The Oilers loss eliminated the defending Eastern champs from title contention and left the Bills and Boston Patriots tied for the No. 1 spot, each with a 7-6-1

PLAYOFF DEC. 28

They are the only two teams in the league to have completed regular season play and will meet in a one-game playoff at Buffalo Dec. 28.

"I was st. saying the other day," recalled Buffalo tackle Sid Youngleman "damn it, after nine years can't I hit the jackpot once." Youngleman has yet to play in a title game after nine years in the AFL and NFL.

He gained a shot at one in Buffalo's 19-10 victory over the Jets in New York Saturday while Boston was bowing to the Chiefs in Kansas City 35-3.

OAKLAND NIPS DENVER

Sunday, in addition to San Diego's triumph over Houston, Oakland nipped Denver 35-31 behind the five touchdown passes of Tom Flores.

That left the Western Division still up for grabs between San Diego, 10-3, and Oakland, 9-4, each with one game to go. It would take a combination of a San Diego loss and an Oakland victory in next week's games to give the Raiders a share of the title.

The Sunday schedule has Houston, 6-7, at Oakland; Denver, 2-10-1 at San Diego, and New York, 5-7-1, at Kansas City, 4-7-2. Boston and Buffalo take the week off.

No matter how you slice it
...gas costs less

Cut up your household energy bill like a loaf of bread and you have to make different sized slices.

Cooking, for example, would be a small slice. Clothes drying, about the same. Water heating, a bigger slice. And home heating, quite obviously, the biggest of all.

All these slices make a rather sizeable loaf. If natural gas—rather than electricity—is the energy source for each slice, the loaf costs a lot less. Gas for cooking costs about $28 less a year than electricity. Clothes drying costs about $27 less... water heating costs $48 less... and home heating, the big energy use, costs about $285 less a year.

Add up these slices and you'll find natural gas saves you nearly $400 a year on your household energy bill.

Natural gas always has given you more for your energy dollar... and it will continue to be your best dollar value in generations to come.

The Gospels Of Christmas

Editor's Note — Each of the four apostles who wrote of the life of Jesus in the New Testament drew upon a different primary source for his information. Here, in the first of five special articles, is the story of how the original Christmas stories were composed.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer

On each man, according to his place, light falls at a particular angle. To each the view is different. Yet it is the same light.

Out of this interplay of sight and light of subject and object comes the iridescence of Christmas.

In its original telling, as handed down to the modern world, it is four stories. None is alike. Yet it is a single story. It is the same substance, clothes in sundry array, the same vision, from varied perspectives.

OLDEST RECORDS

That is the way truth comes to man.

And that is the way it is told in the books of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, the oldest records of the day of the Lord.

Each of the narrators sees separate facts yet one event. Each sees a special set of scenes, actions and circumstances, yet one meaning. Each sees parts of one whole; distinctive portraits, yet one person — Jesus the Christ.

The stories are called the "Gospels," but this plural designation itself is an anachronism. There is only one "Gospel," which means the "good news" from God.

It came suddenly but was understood slowly.

REAL SIGNIFICANCE

That is characteristic of news and of mankind's assimilation of its significance. That is the manner in which the first chronicles of Christmas were put on paper.

They took form gradually, under the reverberating impact of the occasion as minds and hearts absorbed it, experienced it, and increasingly grasped its implications.

In this wise does history sharpen its gaze. Time is required to bring the burst of fact into focus.

Yet the primitive accounts of the coming of Christ were largely compiled in its immediate aftermath. Thus each sees only part of the totality.

THRILLED SOULS

The material was assembled as collections of contemporary reports and observations for a contemporary audience.

They were the documentation of an affair that had staggered men's logic and thrilled their souls.

Writing was limited and laborious in those days. Most information and learning was passed on by word of mouth from generation to generation and from community to community.

At first, the advent of Jesus and His message were circulated in that fashion.

SHARE MEMORIES

In homes and synagogues, in market places and tents of travelers, little groups met to recall incidents and share memories. "Remember the words of the Lord Jesus how He spoke, saying, . . ." They would relate. He was then expected to return soon, and no pressing need was seen initially for committing the details to writing. The expectancy rang in their words. "Maran atha . . . our Lord come!"

Yet He had said, "It is not for you to know the times or the seasons."

And as time went by, and roving evangelists spread the news of His sojourn on earth from country to country, it became apparent that the unwritten testimony should be recorded lest it be forgotten or mistold.

FANCIFUL TALES

Fanciful tales and exaggerations had arisen, mingling with the authentic story. To guard against them and to assure a reliable account of what happened, the men who knew set about drawing up their summaries.

Presumably, in some cases, they wrote by hand, speaking their words aloud to themselves as they shaped the letters, since communication then was more by ear than by eye.

As an alternative, they may have dictated to an amanuensis, or professional scribe.

In either case, in order to multiply and disseminate the accounts, it was up to others to make handwritten duplicate copies, since there were then no mechanical means for doing it.

BEAR NO DATE

None of the existing manuscripts bears a date, and the precise time and place of composition cannot be definitely established. However, early tradition provides many pointers. Journals of various church fathers of the first 150 years after Christ, quoted by the ecclesiastical historian of the third century, Eusebius, offer many details.

Modern scholarship also has shed further light on the circumstances, by analyzing the language, the usages, the indications of instances of borrowing material from one another, and by comparing contents to external events.

The clues suggest that additions and revisions occurred, in some cases, before all the books reached their present finished form.

LATE COMPLETION

The process may not have been completed until around the end of the first century. But the original documents, on which the final versions are based, clearly came much earlier, while Christ's apostles still lived.

Mark's account is generally considered the oldest in its present form, and apparently underwent little editing after it first was composed in apostolic times. However, the ancient journals say Matthew wrote first.

Assuming this is so, scholarly studies indicate that later renditions of his book, as it now stands, also incorporated material from Mark, while retaining distinctive qualities of its own. Luke also may have drawn from Mark.

BEAR AUTHORS' NAMES

Nevertheless, the initial versions of the books, aside from any later reorganizations or combinations, are attributed in the earliest church records to the authors whose names they bear.

Matthew and John were among the 12 apostles, with first-hand information.

Luke, a gentle physician drawn into the movement by the great missionary, Paul, did widespread research and interviews to gather his report.

Mark, a rich young scion of Jerusalem, had been only a young lad in Jesus' time, but got his material from the Apostle Peter.

ACCOUNTS DIFFER

Their accounts differ, both in content and tenor. John's terse, weighty sentences and short words explore the mystery and grandeur of the event. He is more concerned with meaning than incident.

Matthew, in orderly, methodical style, concentrates on ethical implications, recounting 21 parables and the eloquent Sermon on the Mount. Mark is a book of crisp, fast-moving action. He pauses for only four parables, in the hurtling tempo of deeds.

Neither he nor John refers to the genealogy or birth of Jesus, or to the visiting Wise Men, the star, or manger, or the shepherds, but both plunge immediately into the consequences. It is Luke who uncovers the most graphic scene of the Nativity.

TIME OF TURMOIL

The writers worked in a time of turmoil. Israel smoldered with fires of revolution. Preaching about Christ was alternately outlawed or suspect as sedition. Fear of reprisal had silenced many.

The land seethed with clandestine societies, some of them fanatically violent, and the Roman militia trooped the countryside to hunt out and crush the dissident minim, or ways.

Forbidden manifestos circulated from hand to hand. Posters offered rewards for conspirators.

Along with others, the way of Christ had become a dire offense. Men trod it at their peril. In this atmosphere, those who were among the first to know the gift of Christmas set about putting it into a form that could be handed on to the generations up to now, and yet to come.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 14-month-old boy whose heart beat was restored by a 45-minute heart massage Saturday night died Sunday.

An autopsy was scheduled to determine the cause of death of Patrick McBride of Orelan, Pa., whose heart was restored after he choked on a small metal whistle from a rubber Santa Claus.

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: The Ice Sprites made magic skis for the children, to carry them over the mountains. There they were met by a gnome who offered them a ride on a crescent moon.

CHAPTER 12 MOON RIDE

Jeremy and Sissy and Miss Jo took off their skis and sat down in the curve of the crescent moon. It was a very tight fit and Miss Jo kept slipping off the end.

Finally Jeremy climbed to the top of the curve and stretched out flat with his arms and legs wrapped around the fat sides of the moon. Now there was plenty of room for Sissy and Miss Jo. They straddled the lower curve. Sissy held on to Miss Jo and Miss Jo held on to the sides and they were ready to go.

All this time Manfred the Moonlighter held on to the moon with both hands. He kept saying, "Hurry now. This thing has to go up on time!" When they were all set, he looked at the big watch on his wrist and began to count off the seconds. "Six - five - four - three - two - ONE!" When he said ONE he let go of the moon and it sprang into the sky.

Jeremy poked his head over the side and waved at the Moonlighter. "How will we know where to get off?"

The gnome waved back and shouted something but what it was the children couldn't hear. They were already too far away. The ground slipped away. They could see whole towns and even whole kingdoms as lights went on in thousands of homes below them.

Presently the lights disappeared and the moon sailed on.

Then Miss Jo cried, "Look!" She pointed to a silver star passing by. Miss Jo and Sissy leaned far out and tried to catch the star in their hands but the star sparkled daily and glided on, leaving a trail of silver star dust behind.

A little cloud floated nearby. The moon sailed right into it. For a minute the children couldn't see anything at all — not even each other. Then a voice came out of the cloud, saying, "So you are the children who are going to see Santa?" Jeremy nearly fell off his perch, he was so astonished. But he said, "Yes, we are going to warn him about Nog and the Trouble Cake."

"Listen, then," said the voice. "Five more clouds will pass across the moon. In the fifth cloud count to seven and drop off the moon."

"Y-you mean — just drop off?" stammered Jeremy.

But the voice was still and the moon had passed out of the cloud.

Presently they passed through a second cloud.

"That's number one," said

In walked Santa and Nog couldn't believe his eyes.

Jeremy, bending down a finger.

After a while there was another and then another and another and now four of Jeremy's fingers were bent. He said, "The next one is the fifth and here it comes!"

A second later they were hidden in the fifth cloud. Jeremy counted to seven and shouted, "Let go!"

He couldn't see his sisters but he heard Miss Jo cry, "I'm afraid!" Sissy shouted, "Jeremy she won't let go!"

They were right in the middle of the cloud now. In another moment they would be out of it and it would be too late. Jeremy slid down to the bottom of the crescent. He couldn't see anything but he could feel first Sissy's foot and then Miss Jo's. He grabbed one foot in each hand and threw himself forward. All three children tumbled off the moon and sank into the cloud.

For an instant they thought they were going to fall right on through but the cloud was like a feather pillow. They lay in it as warm and comfortable as if they were in their own bed at home.

6 PRO STARS END CAREERS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Joe Perry rushed 10 times for 47 yards. Billy Howton caught one pass for 38 yards. Eddie LeBaron held the ball on conversion attempts. Ray Renfro failed to shake loose for a pass.

For each, it was his last game in the National Football League.

The four offensive standouts plus two defensive titans—San Francisco tackle Leo Nomellini and St. Louis end Ed Henke—announced their retirement after Sunday's closing regular season games. The six represent three-quarters of a century of pro experience.

Perry, 36 and in his 16th pro year, wound up his career with 8,348 yards gained rushing, a mark surpassed only by Cleveland's Jimmy Brown. Perry played for San Francisco and Baltimore, and is only one of four who gained 1,000 yards or more two times.

OUTSTANDING CAREERS

Howton, 33 and playing with Dallas after stops at Green Bay and Cleveland, ended an 11-year career with two records—most pass receptions lifetime, 508, and most yard gained receiving lifetime, 8,459. He scored 61 touchdowns.

LeBaron, 33, retired as the No. 11 passer in NFL history on a yardage basis. His totals for 11 seasons at Washington and Dallas are 897 completions for 13,399 yards and 104 touchdowns.

Renfro, a 12-year vet at 32, gained 5,508 yards on pass receptions and 682 yards rushing for Cleveland. Nomellini, 39, has played 14 seasons with San Francisco in 174 consecutive games and Henke is 35 and an 11-year vet.

Trouble Shortens Family Vacation

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP)—A family started a vacation cruise to Hawaii — and sailed to nowhere.

Hank Simonsen, a Walnut Creek businessman, piloted his 55-foot vessel out the Golden Gate with his wife and their children. A huge swell loosened four 50-gallon gasoline drums, and one rolled overboard.

After the deck damage was repaired, there were troubles with the electrical logging instruments and the binnacle.

With vacation time gone, the family returned home.

Two Pedestrians Killed By Auto

GREENVILLE, Pa. (AP)—An auto swerved out of control on a highway just north of this Mercer County town early Saturday and killed two pedestrians, one of them a policeman.

Frederick R. Anderson, 37, a Greenville policeman, and Charles H. Wolford, 75, of Greenville were killed instantly.

Police said a car driven by Miss Joan C. Robbins, 25, of Hartstown R. 1, Crawford County, hit Wolford on Route 58, then traveled about 260 feet and hit Anderson's police cruiser and drove it against the policeman.

Miss Robbins was admitted to Greenville Hospital with lacerations and contusions.

Anderson had pulled his cruiser to the side of the highway and was out of the car talking with Harold F. Law, 60, of Jamestown R. 2, Mercer County.

Both men saw the Robbins car coming and jumped to get out of the way. Law was not hurt.

GOVERNOR OUT OF HOSPITAL

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. John Connally of Texas, wounded by the sniper who killed President Kennedy, has been released from an Austin hospital and says, "I feel fine—a bit weak—but fine."

Doctors told Connally he would be on his feet by Christmas.

"But right now I'm just exchanging a bed at the hospital for a bed at home," said the Democratic governor, once secretary of the Navy in the Kennedy administration.

NEW COACH FOR IRISH TO BEGIN DUTIES

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—

Ara Parseghian, Notre Dame's new head football coach, carries out his first official duties today when he holds a press conference on the Irish campus.

In a move announced Saturday, Parseghian, head football coach at Northwestern University for eight years, succeeded Hugh Devore, 53, who has been named assistant athletic director at Notre Dame.

Parseghian, 40, said "a fine interview" recently with the Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, Notre Dame president, clinched his decision to take the job.

"This is a great school with a great football heritage and a great football tradition," Parseghian said after his appointment. "I will be coaching at what I consider one of the top schools in the country."

Of prime interest in today's press conference is the subject of Parseghian's coaching staff at Notre Dame.

Parseghian has said he would take along several of his assistants at Northwestern to the Irish campus, indicating he will retain none of Devore's staff.

He has recommended that Wildcat line coach Alex Agase be named his successor at Northwestern. If Agase doesn't get the job, said Parseghian, he hopes to have him at Notre Dame.

TWO TRAFFIC DEATHS HERE AMONG 17 FOR PA. WEEKEND

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
They ranged in age from one to 74 years, and they came from all over Pennsylvania and from beyond its borders. But they shared one common, tragic experience — accidental death this weekend.

Seventeen persons died accidentally in Pennsylvania from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday. As often is the case traffic was the biggest killer with 14 falling victims to vehicle mishaps. Two died in fires and one boy died after choking on a tiny toy then being revived for a while.

The victims:

Today In Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

CHRISTMAS GIFTS: Members of the White House staff have received prints of a painting of the Green Room that Kennedy had planned to give them as Christmas gifts.

The prints, mounted in red portfolios decorated with the presidential seal in gold, bear facsimile signatures of the late President and of Mrs. Kennedy under the inscription: "With our appreciation and best wishes for Christmas."

BAKER: President Johnson will sign an executive order opening to the Senate Rules Committee the income tax returns of Robert G. Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democrats who resigned under fire Oct. 7.

The committee has asked for access to the returns as it investigates possible conflict-of-interest activities by present and former Senate employees.

White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said Saturday an executive order is being prepared for Johnson's signature.

LIFT OFF: The airlift of a 15,000-man Army infantry division to Korea has been postponed indefinitely.

Recommended for March by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, it will not be held during the fiscal year which ends June 30. The Pentagon gave no reason in confirming the postponement Saturday. Informed sources

Yen Promises To Fight Reds

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—C.K. Yen assumed the premiership of Nationalist China today with a pledge to continue the previous government's policy of "fighting Communism and recovering the mainland."

He said the government would intensify anti-Communist guerrilla operations on the mainland. Yen, 58, took over from Chen Cheng, who emphasized he had relinquished the premiership only because of ill health.

Yen promised Johnson's announced economy drive was a major factor.

NO SOAP: The Federal Trade Commission has ordered Procter & Gamble Co. to sell the Clorox Chemical Co., acquired six years ago by the giant firm. The commission said Saturday the acquisition produced economies only in advertising discounts available to Procter & Gamble, the nation's largest producer of household cleaning products.

In Cincinnati, Howard Morgens, president of Procter & Gamble, said the decision will be appealed to federal courts.

ASSASSINATION INQUIRY: Chief Justice Earl Warren called another meeting of the presidential commission investigating the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. The afternoon session today at the National Archives building is the third meeting held by the commission since it was established on orders of President Johnson.

PILOT WHALES ROAM BEACHES

PONTE VEDRA BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Just as they did three or four years ago, pilot whales returned Sunday to Palo Vendra Beach. Most of them perished on the sand.

Roy Landrum, St. Johns County deputy sheriff, said 150 whales were reported on the three-mile stretch of beach. He said some weighed as much as a ton and measured up to 16 feet.

Three young whales, weighing about 300 pounds each and measuring 6 feet, and two of 800-1,000 pounds each and 12-14 feet, were rescued by crews from Marineland of Florida.

Bob Dahne of Marineland said there are several theories as to why pilot whales come ashore. One is that their sonar devices ricochet off shallow, sloping beaches and confuse them. Another is that they are chased ashore by killer sharks. Pilot whales are so called because they follow a male leader.

Daniel Boone Jails Crockett

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Daniel Boone ordered Davy Crockett jailed.

Mrs. Crockett swore out a warrant Sunday night against her husband, David Tidwell Crockett, 52, of Nashville, charging him with drunkenness.

Judge Daniel Boone of General Sessions Court refused bail.

ZANZIBAR AND KENYA JOIN U.N. FAMILY TODAY

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Staff Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.

(AP)—Zanzibar and Kenya join the United Nations today, bringing membership in the world organization to 113 nations.

The Security Council was to adopt British-Ghanaian resolutions recommending both countries for admission. The General Assembly was expected to vote them into membership soon after.

Zanzibar, a former British protectorate, became independent Tuesday. Kenya was a British crown colony until it became independent Thursday. Both are remaining in the British Commonwealth.

ENLARGE AFRICAN GROUP

The two nations bring the ranks of the already powerful Asian-African group at the U.N. to 58 countries, just over half the U.N. membership.

The group is campaigning to enlarge U.N. councils to get more seats for its members, who numbered only 11 in 1945.

The Africans were trying to work out a deal with the 21-nation Latin American group to override Big Four opposition and push resolutions through the General Assembly calling for expansion of the Security Council from 11 to 15 seats and the Economic and Social Council from 18 to 27 seats.

SEEKING CHANGES

The Latin Americans also are sponsoring a resolution to expand the Security Council to 13 seats and the Economic and Social Council to 24.

Informed diplomats said eight of the 21 Latin American delegations pledged their support to the Asian-African proposals.

The Soviet Union has stated publicly and Britain, France and the United States have hinted privately they would block the enlargement sought by the Asian-African sponsors.

Court Overturns Contempt Orders

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court overturned today contempt convictions of two officials of the National States Rights party, an Alabama segregationist group.

In an unusual twist in the integration struggle, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had — on principle — joined the segregationists in fighting the convictions.

The NAACP was concerned that its own activities might be put under a disadvantage if the convictions stood up in the case of the segregationists.

The Supreme Court's decision was announced in a brief, unsigned order.

The order cited a decision of some years ago in the case of "Shuffling" October 11, 1961, in a private hall.

STOLEN RAZORS, DRYERS FOUND

CHICAGO (AP)—A truckload of electric razors and hair dryers stolen from the Shick Co., Lancaster, Pa., was recovered Saturday on a farm in nearby Porter County, Ind. Two Valparaiso, Ind., men were arrested.

M. W. Johnson, special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation office at Chicago, said Walter Edward Fetla, 49, owner of Fetla's Bargain Center and Trading Post, a Valparaiso store, and Joseph Kazlauskis, 41, partner in the Vale City Packing Co., Valparaiso, were charged with receiving stolen property.

The shipment, valued at $36,000, was in a trailer that disappeared from a truck parking yard in Chicago Dec. 3, shortly after arriving from Lancaster. Fetla and Kazlauskis were freed on bail of $10,000 each after appearing before a U. S. Commissioner in Hammond, Ind.

Van Zandt Plans Race For Congress

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—James E. Van Zandt says he is seriously considering running for Congress next year.

Van Zandt, a former congressman, revealed this at a conference of Republican leaders Saturday. He said he would make a formal announcement before the first of the year.

At present Van Zandt is serving as a liaison man for Gov. Scranton in Washington. Van Zandt unsuccessfully opposed the re-election bid of Democratic Sen. Joseph Clark last year.

Korean President Dissolves Council

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—In a prelude to his inauguration as president, South Korean strongman Chung Hee Park today dissolved the military revolutionary council he led to power with a coup 31 months ago.

"This council now folds its revolutionary banners," Park hundreds of officers at junta headquarters.

Park, still ruling under martial law, is to take the oath as elected president Tuesday and is to form South Korea's third republic in a little more than three years.

John Glenn Will Laud Wright Bros.

KITTY HAWK N.C. (AP)—Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. talks aeronautics today near the sandy field from which the air age was launched.

Glenn headed a list of aviators and government officials here to pay tribute to Orville and Wilbur Wright, two bicycle mechanics who solved the mystery of powered flight near Kitty Hawk Dec. 17, 1903.

XAVIER TEAMS BOW

The St. Francis Xavier School dribblers lost a pair of games to Annunciation at McSherrystown Sunday, the varsity bowing 48-23 and the reserves 27-23. Next Sunday Immaculate Conception of New Oxford will oppose the Red Raiders here.

Greeks Assail Plane Purchase

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Greece's new premier, George Papandreu, is under fire over an American airplane ordered for the royal family's private use.

Newspapers which supported the government of Constantine Caramanlis assailed the purchase.

Papandreu confirmed that the plane had been ordered. But he said the purchase had been made by the caretaker government which preceded his regime and he felt his cabinet was bound to honor the contract.

NCS EAGER TO PLAY IN BOWL ON SATURDAY

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Coach Earle Edwards says his North Carolina State football team is enthused about meeting Mississippi State Saturday in the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia.

"The boys welcome the opportunity to play another game together," said Edwards today as he prepared to send his Wolfpack through one of its final home field workouts. They'll wind up drills here Wednesday and leave by plane for Philadelphia Thursday morning.

Looking back on the 8-2 season that brought the team the co-championship of the Atlantic Coast Conference, Edwards said, "We felt last September that we would have a good season. We had many experienced boys back and felt that if we got good effort from everybody we would have a good year."

LED BALL CARRIERS

"The boys who were supposed to produce had the good year and all down the line everybody did his part. I really can't single out anybody in particular. Quarterback Jim Rossi learned from experience and had a fine season and we were lucky he escaped injury. Being small (5-foot-10, 175 pounds) there was that danger, but he came through."

Rossi gained 1,206 yards running and passing, with 423 on the ground to lead the team's ball carriers.

Sparkling the line were Don Montgomery, who won second team All-America honors and tackle Bert Wilder, Associated Press Lineman of the Week in a key victory over Duke.

Edwards and his staff have been studying movies of Mississippi State's last four games.

"We think they're the toughest team we've faced this season," he said.

STEAL PISTOLS

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Police say two 16-year-old boys broke into the Hess Brothers department stores Sunday and stole five .22 calibre show pistols. One boy was arrested a short time later in a move house. The second, believed to have all the weapons along with a quantity of ammunition, still was at large today.

ANNA B. COLLINS

JACOBY: In loving memory of Mrs. Orville Jacoby who passed away three years ago December 16.

Grief is love deprived. One longs for the touch of a vanished hand and for the sound of a voice that is stilled. But faith is love restored. Whom we have lost, we have not lost at all. We shall be together forever in God's eternal life. Thus, at last, grief finds its final answer in faith and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes.

In loving memory,
The children

Mrs. Johnson's Mail Is Heavy; Averages 500 Letters A Day

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Some wrote in the spidery script of the old.

Children enclosed pictures of their dogs.

Some offered their prayers, and others sent copies of the services in their churches for the dead President.

The letters started coming to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson just a few days after President John F. Kennedy was killed and Lyndon B. Johnson became President.

HEAVY MAIL

The mail for the new First Lady has been running about 500 to 600 letters a day, the White House says. It has no cumulative total, because the letters have been going, too, to the Johnsons' old home.

In general, the letters are expressions of sorrow for the tragedy that took the life of a President and words of encouragement for the new First Family.

One Texas judge told President and Mrs. Johnson there is "great sorrow in our hearts for President Kennedy and his fine family, but we look to the future with confidence under your calm leadership."

"ANGUISHED DAYS"

In her replies, Mrs. Johnson has told her good wishes—

"These have been anguished days for all of us. The good wishes and confidence of people all over the world have sustained us during these trying times . . .

"The thoughtful good wishes of so many people are most reassuring . . .

"How thoughtful of you to write me in the days of anguish . . .

It is her practice never to begin a letter with "I."

At first, it seemed, people just wanted to write Mrs. Johnson about the tragedy and their good wishes for her. Some told her not to take the time to reply.

PUBLIC CURIOSITY

In the past week, they've shown a curiosity about the new First Family — where does the family eat dinner? Where do the dogs sleep? Requests for pictures of Mrs. Johnson and her two daughters, Lynda Bird, 19, and Lucy Baines, 16.

The girls are getting mail, too, and handling as much as they can themselves.

When a member of Mrs. Johnson's staff can handle the queries and requests, that is done.

Mrs. Johnson likes to see as much mail as she can. Sometimes she can tell an aide, "Answer this one this way." At other times she dictates the answer herself.

Every morning she signs about 200 letters.

CORE PICKETS PHILA. POLICE

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Members of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) picketed a north Philadelphia police station Saturday and one of the said he handed a leaflet to police demanding an end to what was called beating and shooting of innocent people.

The 17 pickets carried signs saying: "Is Philadelphia Another Birmingham?" and "Kill Hate, Not Us."

Louis G. Smith, CORE chairman here, said he gave to Police Inspector Edward Bell a leaflet with demands for an end to "beating and shooting of in-

MAY TRY TO SLASH PENNA. LIQUOR LEVY

HARRISBURG (AP) — A Republican senator from Armstrong County says declining state store sales might be just cause for an attempt next year to repeal the commonwealth's increased liquor tax.

The repeal comment came from Sen. Albert Pechan, majority whip, who interpreted latest Liquor Control Board figures to signify that the tax increase — from 10 to 15 per cent — just might be regressive.

"I said at the time that I reluctantly voted for the increase that if it turned out to be a regressive tax, I would seek its repeal at the January session," Pechan said this past weekend.

"This seems to be the case," he added.

SALES ARE DOWN

Latest Liquor Control Board figures show that sales in the 682 state stores across the commonwealth are down $5,031,684 — or 3.9 per cent — from the same six-month period last year.

This marked the sixth consecutive month that sales have dropped since the tax was increased by 50 per cent last June.

Pechan, revealing that he knew of "a lot of people" in his district who have been buying their liquor in Ohio and Maryland, looked at the situation this way:

PROFITS DOWN

"This liquor isn't being made in Pennsylvania. If we have priced ourselves out of the market, we are not only losing taxes, but also distillery employment."

There is a distillery in Pechan's district. The senator said distillery workers and other constituents were urging him to repeal the increase.

The Liquor Control board's figures show that collections under the new tax are up $5,703,659 from last year, but that state store profits are down $2,077,324.

This means that the net revenue gain under the increased tax is only $3.6 million at the halfway mark in the fiscal year — far below the yield the Scranton administration had anticipated.

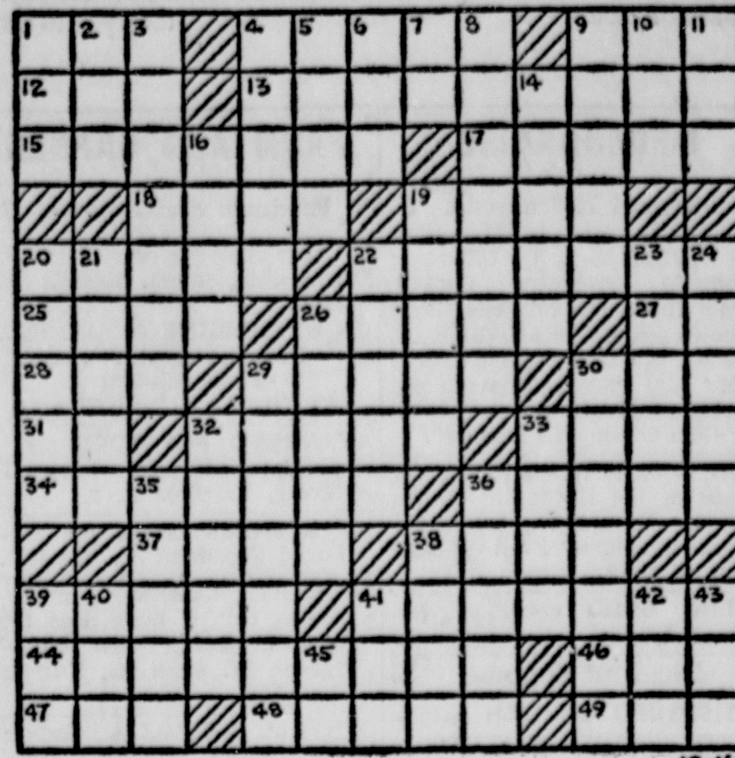

NEW YORK (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York and military vicar of U.S. armed forces, leaves Tuesday on his annual Christmas visit to servicemen stationed overseas. He'll go to Honolulu, Christchurch, New Zealand, and then to four American scientific bases in the Antarctic.

innocent people, illegal search of people, their homes and automobiles and white-washing of police. . . .

Core officials said the demonstration had no relation to the case of John Tourigian, a white patrolman, who fatally wounded Negro Willie Philpaw, 24, during a burglary investigation.

The Police Department and medical examiner's office has cleared Tourigian and said the shooting was "justifiable homicide." The shooting, last Oct. 26, touched off two nights of rioting in North Philadelphia.

EXTRA WORK FOR MEDICAL STUDENTS HIT

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Plans to tighten up enforcement of state law governing the kind of outside work medical students can do led to what was described as a manpower crisis at some Philadelphia area hospitals over the weekend.

Officials said many students resigned these weekend jobs when notified they might be regarded as "improperly practicing medicine without proper supervision."

Alan Emlen, state commissioner of professional and occupational affairs, said the resignations "created an alarming situation" in the hospitals, many of which depend on student help.

The State Board of Medical Education and Licensure, in an emergency decision, agreed to re-examine the rules after learning of the manpower trouble at the area hospitals.

Dr. Charles B. Hollis, the board chairman, announced the decision after a telephone survey of board members. He said the students would be allowed to work until the end of the year.

Dr. Hollis was critical of both the students and the schools. He said:

"These boys are acting like doctors, and doing things that doctors should do. It was so bold and rampant we had to invite the deans' attention to the law."

"They (the deans) jumped in to the situation with both feet and as a result upset both the boys and the hospitals."

Dr. Hollis said the board decided the students would be allowed to work out their contracts

TODAY

In History

Today is Monday, Dec. 16, the 350th day of 1963. There are 15 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1901, the United States ratified the Hay-Pauncefote Treaty. The pact defined relations of the United States and Great Britain relative to the Panama Canal.

On this date In 1631, Mount Vesuvius in Italy erupted, killing 18,000 persons.

In 1773, American colonists staged the historic Boston Tea Party to express indignation over the tea tax levied by the British Parliament.

In 1865, the United States advised Louis Napoleon's government that it would not tolerate the presence of French troops or a foreign monopoly in Mexico.

In 1907, President Theodore Roosevelt sent the U.S. battleship fleet on a world tour.

In 1960, commercial aviation's worst disaster occurred when two airliners collided over New York City, killing 134 persons.

Ten years ago — The first tape recording of an entire presidential news conference in the White House was permitted, and newspapers were permitted to quote the President without limitations — also for the first time.

Five years ago — Fifteen NATO powers rejected Russia's claims on Berlin but expressed willingness to discuss the issues of German and European security.

One year ago — British Prime Minister Harold MacMillan and French President Charles de Gaulle failed to reach agreement in talks aimed at facilitating Britain's entry into the European Common Market.

to the end of the year, but henceforth the law would be strictly enforced.

Dr. Hollis said he called a meeting of the deans of the five Philadelphia medical schools about two weeks ago to discuss restrictions in the newly revised Medical Practices Act. This meeting apparently touched off warnings from the deans to the students.

HEARINGS ON JOBLESS PAY ARE RENEWED

HARRISBURG (AP) — Business interests return to the witness stand today as legislative hearings on proposed reforms in the state's unemployment compensation program resume in Harrisburg.

One organization giving unqualified support to the Scranton administration plan designed to bolster the state's sagging unemployment compensation fund was the Greater Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce.

Hal L. Bemis, chairman of the chamber's Commerce and Industry Council, said in his prepared testimony that the organization favored passage of the administration plan "without change."

DOUBLE MOVE NEEDED

"The only way in which the fund can attain financial stability . . . is to simultaneously increase receipts and reduce pay out benefits," Bemis said.

Last week, Jack E. Brown, executive director of the Bureau of Employment Security, told the commission the unemployment compensation fund faced bankruptcy unless immediate reforms were enacted.

There currently is a balance of $167.6 million in the unemployment compensation reserve, just $600,000 more than the state owes the federal government in loans and temporary advances.

The administration program would increase revenues an estimated $35 million a year and reduce the payouts by the same amount.

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Mayor Huang Chi-jui of Taipei, suspended from office 27 months ago on charges of taking kickbacks on a housing project and city purchases, has been reinstated.

The Supreme Court cleared the mayor. Huang is serving his second 3-year term.
